Lots of fun, but no T-RexBy Jackie S.If there's one way to keep high school juniors awake through the day, it's by giving them dinosaur stencils. That's not to say it'll make them actually pay attention, but living students are more likely to learn something than the comatose bodies sprawled across the room that I call my friends. Unfortunately, I'm not sure if my French teacher appreciates the dinos on my notes. And I'm pretty sure that kid wasn't too happy about the Sharpie Eoceratops on his cheek. Pros: stencils are sturdy and tear out colorful! dinosaurs are labeled Cons: no T-Rex. Seriously.

Add instant interest to school reports and other flat surfaces with images of the massive Eoceratops, the double-horned Chasmosaurus, the vegetarian Iguanodon, and 3 other prehistoric beasts.
